Beaver Local Schools Closed

Cold Wave Sends Mercury Tumbling

A paralyzing cold front moved into Ohio today, sending temperatures below the freezing mark in all but a small section of southern Ohio.

Temperatures here this morning ranged from four to 10 below zero and in southern Columbiana County, Beaver Local District schools were closed when buses kept outside refused to start.

Icy road conditions also contributed to the decision not to open school today. A total of 2,100 pupils was affected.

Schools elsewhere opened on schedule following the holiday recess.

It was four below zero in Salem at 6 a.m. today and 10 below readings were reported at many places on the outskirts of the city, including the sewage treatment plant.

County and state highways were reported icy in spots. Minor drifts were plowed open after new snowfall.

The front, part of a gigantic arctic air mass that brought most of the nation its coldest weather so far this season, is centered over the Ohio Valley. The air mass is drifting eastward, though, the Weather Bureau said, and should pass out of the state by Tuesday causing some slight warming.

At 7 a. m., the Weather Bureau in Columbus reported that Dayton, with 9 degrees below, appeared to be the coldest spot in the state. Columbus, Cincinnati and Toledo all recorded 6 below, Findlay 7, Zanesville and Circleville 5, Chillicothe 1, Chesapeake zero, Marietta 2, and Youngstown 3 below.

Mikoyan Starts American Tour

Russian Official Visits Washington

WASHINGTON (AP)—Old Bolshevik Anastas I. Mikoyan, insisting he is just on vacation, set up a no-holds-barred talk about the cold war with Secretary of State Dulles today.

The 63-year-old Soviet first deputy premier flew into New York City Sunday and drove directly to Washington.

At New York's airport, he studiously ignored a group of Hungarian refugees, some of whom yelled "murderer" and "Communist dog" at him. But a larger contingent waited in vain at the Soviet U. N. mission headquarters on Park Ave., which he bypassed.

Today, however, some of the same determined picketers arranged to march with placards outside the State Department, where Mikoyan had his appointment with Dulles. Both Mikoyan and State Department officials indicated the Berlin situation would figure in the talks.

For Mikoyan so far the trip has been "America revisited." He came here in 1936, when he was so impressed with ice cream and the automat that he introduced both ideas to Russia. This time he got excited about cellophane-wrapped doughnuts, motels, parking meters and rental automobiles.

The days ahead also have no fixed schedule. Mikoyan says he will be happy to talk about anything Dulles wants, including Berlin. Dulles says "The initiative is his." Mikoyan says he would be pleased to talk to President Eisenhower if the President has time.

One thing stood out clear. The critical Berlin situation—provoked two months ago by Soviet Premier Khrushchev—is the biggest cold war issue at present, and hence the most likely topic of any talks Mikoyan holds here. The question in the official American mind was: How far is Mikoyan authorized to go—if at all—in backing down from Khrushchev's seeming ultimatum, rejected by the West, that the allies pull their troops out of West Berlin by next May?

Pedestrian Injured When Struck by Car

Otto Paxson, 85, of 535 S. Union Ave. was seriously injured when struck by a car at the intersection of E. State St. and Lincoln Ave. at 2:40 p.m. Saturday.

Paxson, who suffered possible fractures of the left arm, ankle and ribs, lacerations of the nose and chin and abrasions of the left arm and left leg, is reported in fairly good condition this morning at Salem City Hospital.

Police said the elderly man was crossing S. Lincoln Ave. from west to east with the light, when he was struck by a car driven by Lewis I. Bowser, 33, of 1164 E. 3rd St.

Bowser was turning south onto S. Lincoln Ave. from E. State St. He told police he did not see the man until it was too late to stop.

Witnesses said that the car appeared to pass completely over Paxson after knocking him down. Bowser was cited by police for failure to yield the right of way to a pedestrian and for no operator's license.

Police investigated three other accidents on the city's streets over the weekend.

A car driven by Edward Rintala, 58, of Warren failed to stop for a traffic light at the intersection of N. Ellsworth Ave. and 2nd St. Sunday at 8:54 a.m. and struck an auto operated by Charles A. Kellner, 39, of 473 Stewart Ave.

Rintala was arrested for crashing a red light.

Cars driven by Howard A. Leitner were cited for failure to yield the right of way to a pedestrian and for no operator's license.

America Hampered Rebels

United States Popular With Citizens of Cuba

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

HAVANA (AP)—The United States has been fairly lucky so far with the Cuban revolution.

The big neighbor to the north is still popular with the Cubans. But some of that popularity, as well as prestige elsewhere in Latin America, likely will be lost if Washington drags its feet about recognizing the new provisional government of Cuba.

By banning the shipment of arms to Fulgencio Batista's government during the revolution, the United States seriously hurt the dictator's cause. In Cuba it was considered the United States actually had sided with Fidel Castro's rebels, particularly since smuggled arms continued to stream steadily to the rebels from U. S. sources.

That built up goodwill for the U. S. government. But Washington likely would surrender some of that goodwill if it lets the Soviet Union and other Communist countries grab the distinction of being the first to recognize the new regime.

The United States has seldom in modern history been on the side of popular revolution in the non-

Castro, Soldiers Moving Slowly Toward Havana

Tens of Thousands Cheer Rebel Leader, Motorized Columns

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro and thousands of his hard-fighting soldiers continued their slow westward march of triumph today, savoring the adulation being heaped on them as they approached Havana.

Tens of thousands in cities, towns and villages turned out to cheer wildly as Castro and his motorized columns made their way from the Oriente province center of their rebellion which overthrew the dictatorship of Fulgencio Batista last week.

The progress was slow: Camaguey, 300 miles from Havana, Sunday night; tonight, Santa Clara, scene of the decisive defeat which forced Batista to flee, 140 miles further along the march; Tuesday, Matanzas, 50 miles from the capital.

Expected Wednesday
Castro and his men were expected in the capital Wednesday afternoon for one of the greatest welcomes in Cuban history.

In a prelude, Manuel Urrutia, named provisional president by Castro, was flying from Santiago de Cuba this morning to take the central government reins in Havana.

The people of Havana awaited Castro with full stomachs for the first time since the collapse of the Batista government and the dictator's pre-dawn flight to Ciudad Trujillo.

The rebel chieftain, now commander in chief of Cuba's armed forces, ordered an end to the paralyzing general strike which had closed the nation's stores, business and industries and tied up transport and communications.

He had said he would call off the strike when he was convinced Havana was safely in the hands of his men.

Return to Normalcy
There were immediate signs of a return to normalcy in the tense excited city.

Newspapers began appearing again. Stores flung open their doors to do a land office business selling foodstuffs to hungry Havaneiros. Taxis and buses resumed operation. Industrial workers began preparing to return to their jobs.

Castro's bearded soldiers patrolled the streets with rifles, pistols, and machineguns, guarded government buildings and banks and roamed the lobbies and

Russia's Cosmic Rocket Prepares to Orbit Sun

RUDE AWAKENING—Mr. and Mrs. Samuel E. Dumbleton of 921 Jones Drive escaped injury when a car crashed into their home while they were sleeping early Sunday morning, but a couple in the auto suffered injuries. ## 'Lunik' Missed Moon Saturday By 4,700 Miles

Missile Will Become Artificial Planet; Space Ships Eyed

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union's cosmic rocket hurtled farther into outer space today at more than 5,000 miles an hour and the Soviets expected it to go into orbit around the sun Wednesday or Thursday.

An announcement by the Russians at 4 a. m. Moscow time (8 p. m. EST Sunday night) said the 1½-ton rocket was 343,750 miles from earth and 146,875 miles from the moon.

Moscow radio announced the missile—called "Lunik," from Sputnik and Luna, or moon—was traveling at a maximum speed of 2.45 kilometers (1.52 miles) per second when it passed near the moon Sunday.

This speed, equivalent to 5,472 miles per hour, corresponded approximately with the speed of 9,000 kilometers (5,592 miles) per hour announced by the Russians Saturday night.

Passed Moon
It passed the moon at a distance of about 4,700 miles at 5:59 a. m. Moscow time Sunday (9:59 p. m. EST Saturday night).

The official Soviet news agency Tass said the rocket would enter its orbit around the sun Jan. 7 or 8 and thus become the first artificial planet around the sun.

Tass said the rocket's radio equipment was still sending data. But contact will gradually fade out because of distance and weakening of the batteries aboard.

Tass said the missile was gradually entering an elliptical orbit around the sun.

The Russians calculate this orbit would have a maximum diameter of 214¼ million miles. The closest it would get to the sun would be about 91½ million miles. This point would be reached Jan. 14.

The Soviets estimate it will take 15 months for the rocket to complete a trip around the sun.

Dr. G. M. Clemence, scientific director of the U. S. Naval Observatory in Washington, said that some time in March or February the earth will pass between the rocket and the sun.

Tighter Orbit
The earth has an elliptical orbit around the sun, the same as the rocket will have, but it is tighter. It takes the earth only 12 months to make the full swing.

Soviet newspapers Sunday were filled with comments on the performance and predictions of new space ventures. But there were no further details on the rocket itself, its launching site or power.

On a Moscow radio broadcast Prof. Boris Kukarkin, deputy chairman of the Soviet Astronomical Council, mentioned the possibility of a space ship soaring outside the entire solar system.

Kukarkin said that higher speeds than those needed by Russia's space rocket to escape earth's gravity are probably attainable in the near future.

Ohio Lawmakers Set Up Office

Changes Seen For Political Philosophy

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's 172 lawmakers wheeled into the state capital today to begin a half-year—or longer—wrestling match with state problems.

Most of the problems have a big $ stamped on them.

But a number of other things which will take up the time of the 98 Democrats and 74 Republicans in the two houses will revolve around differences in political philosophies.

Since the Democrats, who will be in control of the General Assembly for the first time in a decade, see things somewhat differently from the Republicans, there likely will be some changes, particularly in the field of social legislation.

Ohio's empty purse, however, promises to be the big headache for the Democrats who control the house 78-61 and the senate 20-13.

The pinch of falling income and rising demands for more state spending has impelled Gov.-Elect Michael V. DiSalle to suggest a short session now, a recess to study the money problem and a longer session late in the year to work out the solution.

At the moment, however, that plan of action appears unlikely. Most legislators seem to believe the money problem can be worked out while they work on a multitude of other matters.

Today's first sessions of the two houses of the 103rd General Assembly are dictated by the Ohio Constitution. That document provides the senate shall meet at 1:30 p.m. and the house at 2 p.m. on the first Monday in January following the election.

The sessions will consist of formalities and organization of the two houses. The organization itself is a formality.

Lt. Gov. Paul M. Herbert will call the senate into session, the members will take the oath of office, the Democrats will nominate Sen. Frank King (D-Lucas) for president pro tem and the Republicans will nominate Sen. C. Stanley Mechem (R-Athens). King will win 20-13. A week from today, the new lieutenant governor, John Donahy of Alliance, will be in-

Mayor to Quit School Board On March 2

Mayor Harold D. Smith today announced both his candidacy for another term as mayor and his resignation as a member of the Board of Education.

Mr. Smith was a member of the school board when he was elected mayor in November, 1957, and after taking over his mayoralty duties the first of last year, decided to retain his seat on the Board of Education.

He said he would resign officially when the board meets tonight at the Junior High, explaining that he feels that his service to the school district has been completed now that the new senior high school has been finished.

He said his resignation would not become effective until March 2 so that board members can have ample time to pick a successor. The board must name a clerk, however, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Harold F. Wyckoff on Dec. 31. Wallace King is expected to get the job.

The board will formally organize for the new year and elect officers.

City Crews to Haul Away Christmas Trees

Highway Death Toll Hits 370

Sharp Upward Trend Reported by Council

By The Associated Press

Traffic	370
Fires	61
Miscellaneous	112
Total	543

The nation's traffic death toll during the long New Year weekend showing sharp upward trends at the start and the close, edged toward the preholiday estimate of 390 today.

The final count awaited delayed reports of accident deaths which occurred up to midnight Sunday. It started at 6 o'clock (local time) New Year's Eve.

Although it appeared possible the final total would reach the National Safety Council's estimate, indications were the final toll would be under the record traffic toll of 409 for a New Year holiday period. That mark was posted in a four-day period at the end of 1956 and the start of 1957.

Notes Swift Pace
The Council noted the swift pace of deaths on the highways Sunday as the homeward rush of motorists reached the peak of travel. The upturn was similar to the toll on New Year's Day after a relatively safe start.

Weather was a big factor in the count. Many accidents were attributed to the snow and ice-slicked highways. But the hazardous driving conditions also resulted

One to 15 Years In Prison

3 Former E. Liverpool Policemen Sentenced

LISBON — Three former East Liverpool police officers were sentenced to one to 15 years each in Ohio State Penitentiary by Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzard this morning but he delayed execution of sentence pending their appeals to the Court of Appeals.

Defense attorneys have 20 days in which to file appeals.

Louis "Mike" Stutler, 35, 1 r a Channingham, 51, both of East Liverpool, and Jerry Raimond 31, of Chester, W. Va. were sentenced for burglaries of Burdick's Hardware Store in East Liverpool Stutler in 1954 and Cunningham and Raimond in 1952.

Attorneys for Stutler, Sam Chertoff of East Liverpool and Alvin Savinelli of Steubenville, representing Atty. Hugo Alexander, who was out of the state, verified that appeals would be forthcoming on both cases.

Cunningham was also arraigned on a charge of bribing a juror. He was indicted on that charge by the recalled September Grand Jury in November.

He pleaded "not guilty" to the charge.

Cunningham and Raimond were found guilty of the Burdick burglary by a Common Pleas Court jury Nov. 22. Robert Carroll, 35, another former East Liverpool policeman charged as an accomplice during the burglary, was acquitted.

Stutler was convicted Dec. 11.

There Are Deadlines: Jan. 15 for Some, April 15 for All

It's Time to Think About Taxes Again

Although Congress in 1958 made a number of changes in the tax laws, the rates for individual taxpayers were left unchanged.

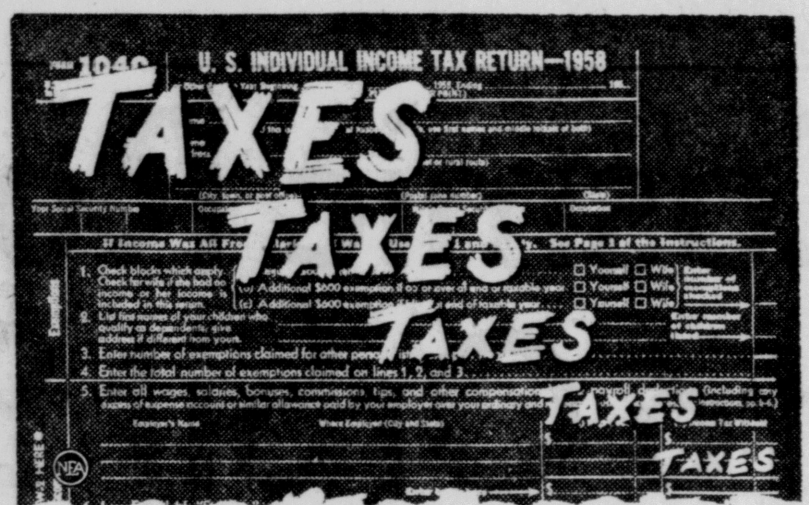

This means that you'll again be paying at the same high rates that have been in effect for the past few years.

It also means that the smart taxpayer will take advantage of every possible tax saving as he fills out his return for 1958.

One of the first things to do is keep in mind that there is an important deadline coming up soon for those of you who filed or should have filed a declaration of estimated tax (Form 1040-ES) on your 1958 income. This deadline is Jan. 15, 1959.

IF YOU PREVIOUSLY filed a declaration of estimated tax for 1958, you will receive from the District Director of Internal Revenue a bill for the last installment on your estimated tax.

Before paying this bill which is due Jan. 15, you should make a rough computation of your 1958 income and tax. If your payments of estimated tax for 1958 plus tax withheld from your wages is less than 70 per cent (66 2/3 per cent if you are a farmer) of your 1958 tax, then you should file an amended declaration of estimated tax and increase the payment of the last installment so as to equal or exceed the percentages given above.

Unless you do this, you may be subject to a penalty for underpaying your estimated tax. The penalty (6 per cent of the underpayment per year) will not apply, however, if your estimated tax payments plus tax withheld is equal to or greater than either:

The tax shown on your 1957 return.

A tax computed by using your income for 1957 and your exemptions for 1958.

There is one way you can postpone the Jan. 15 deadline. If you file your final return for 1958 on or before Feb. 2, 1959, (Feb. 15, 1959 if a farmer) and pay in full any tax thereon, this will have effect of meeting the Jan. 15 deadline.

THE NEXT DEADLINE and this is for everyone — is April 15, when final returns for 1958 must be filed.

To help you save every possible tax dollar and at the same time file a correct return, The Salem News will soon bring you NEA's 18th annual Income Tax Primer.

For years, thousands of taxpayers have been using the Primer to help them with the many tough problems that can arise when the average citizen fills out his own return.

As in the past, the 1958 Primer is designed to supplement the official instructions issued by the Internal Revenue Service. It will aid those taxpayers who want more information than is contained in the official instructions or who have problems not specifically answered therein.

So watch for the 12 Primer articles beginning Tuesday in the Salem News and let them help you meet the April 15 deadline for filing tax returns for 1958.

Annual List of Best-Dressed Women Gets All-New Look

NEW YORK (AP)—The annual list of best-dressed women had a new look of its own today.

It was a completely new list. The perennial winners of the past were given permanent honors in a new fashion hall of fame, thus giving a newer generation of the elegantly dressed women of the world a chance to get on the list each year.

Among those elevated to places vacated by the former title holders were a former New York model and a New York socialite. They tied for first place this year in balloting by 2,500 fashion experts throughout the world. Results were announced Sunday by the New York Dress Institute.

The co-winners were Countess Rodolfo Crespi of Rome—the former Consuelo O'Connor, one of the noted O'Connor twins of New York cover girl fame—and Mrs.

Winston Guest of New York and Palm Beach. Mrs. Guest long has been known for her elegant restraint in dress.

Others chosen for the 1959 best-dressed group were:

Mrs. Henry Ford II of Grosse Pointe, Mich.; Princess Margaret Rose of Britain, Countess Quintanilla of Madrid, Mme. Arturo Lopez-Willshaw of Paris, Mrs. William Randolph Hearst Jr. of New York, Mrs. Rex Harrison of London (film star Kay Kendall), Mrs. Thomas Bancroft Jr. of New York, Mrs. Norman K. Winston of New York and Paris, Mrs. Mel Ferrer (film star Audrey Hepburn, now living in Europe), Mrs. Stanley Rumbough Jr. (Dina Merrill, socialite-actress of New York), Mrs. David K. Bruce, wife of the U.S. ambassador to West Germany, and Mrs. Bruno Pagliai of Mexico (actress Merle Oberon).

More than two-thirds of the group are well below middle age, most are American and nearly all are active in careers, sports or other interests—making all something more than "clothes horses."

The fashion institute said it was decided to retire the previous constant winners to the permanent hall of fame because "their faultless taste in dress, without ostentation or extravagance, places them above annual comparison."

Those accorded this new distinction were:

The Duchess of Windsor, Mrs. William Paley of New York, Countess Edward von Bismarck of Paris and Capri (the former Mrs. Harrison Williams), Queen Elizabeth II of Britain, Mme. Jacques Balsan of Palm Beach and New York (the former Consuelo Vanderbilt), Actress Mary Martin, film star and diplomat Irene Dunne and actress Claudette Colbert.

Foreigners are not permitted to buy land in American Samoa.

Northernmost town in the United States is Penasque, Minn.

Ambassador Claims Worst Over in Cuba

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—The American ambassador to Cuba says he thinks a new government for the revolt-torn island will form quickly.

That's the report Sunday night by Dave Roberts, Cincinnati Enquirer travel editor.

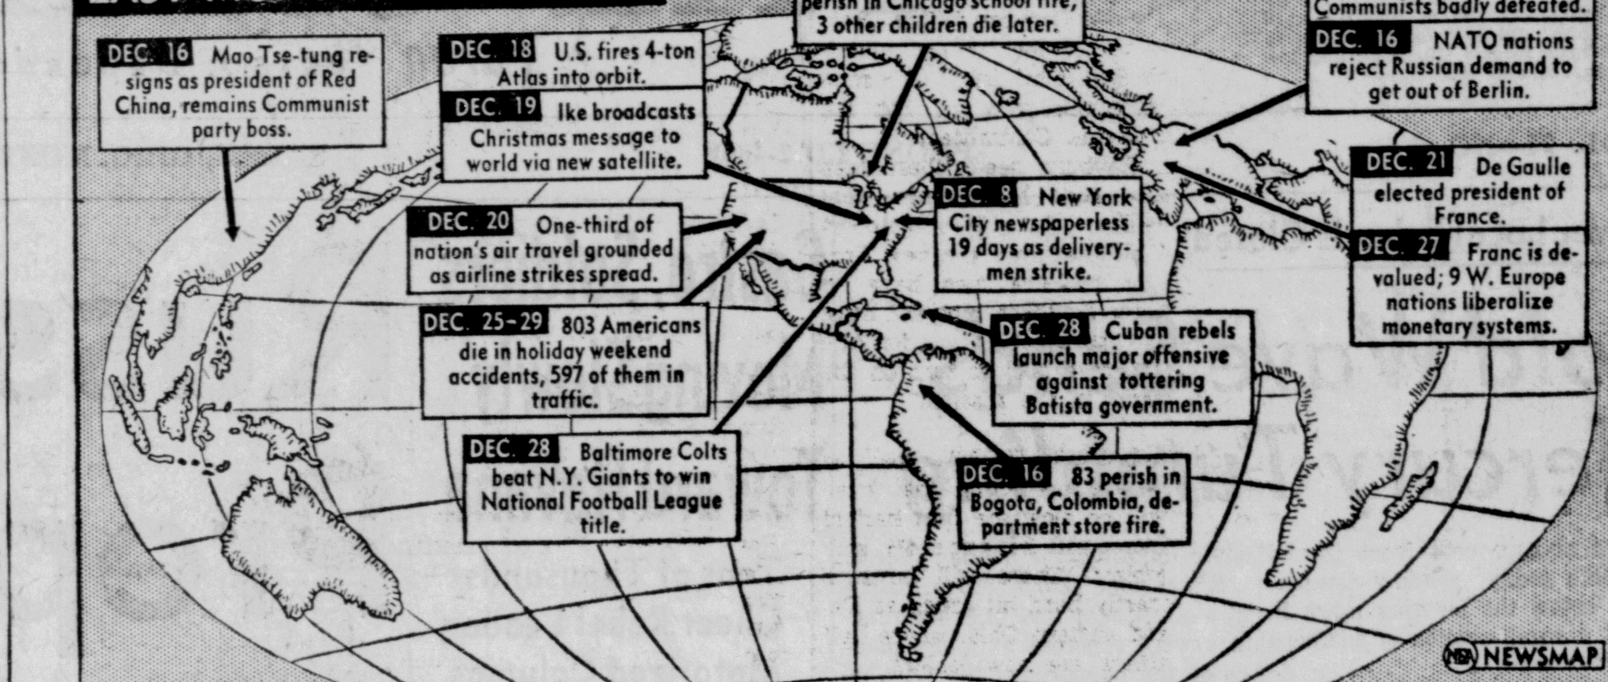

"There has been confusion, of course, but we could have seen a blood bath the likes of which Cuba never experienced before."

"I am now convinced that we have passed the worst and the situation will continue to level until the new government is completely established."

The ambassador also said he was impressed by quick accord between rebel troops of Fidel Castro and Cuban army units.

He said, "we were highly impressed when we saw the close fraternization that was going on between soldiers of the 26th of July movement and soldiers of the regular army."

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

There's no business like sooth-saying business these early days of the New Year. Probing inner space for political predictions reveals the high-ball has replaced the crystal ball. But as soon as the glib cocktail party is over the secret caucuses will begin the under-cover play which could well pass the power over Congress from the Lyndon Johnson - Sam Rayburn Southern bloc to the Labor-Northern coalition for the first time since Gen. Grant took the White House.

If there is any prediction which can be made, it is the coming drive by the Labor - Northern coalition to replace the Southern bloc for all time.

Sen. Hubert Humphrey's eight hour tete-a-tete with Khrushchev was a yawn compared to the time he has spent with some nine other senators and a troupe of political-active labor leaders planning such a drive.

Congress is run by committees. Ever since Barbara Fritchie's hair turned gray, these committees have been controlled by Southern conservatives. But now the heavy Northern Blue line-up says the coming Congress marks the end of Gray line of succession.

IN THE CAUCUSES to which I refer, the Humphrey-labor bloc has actually counted heads and decided that they have enough to out-vote Mr. Sam in the House and Sen. Johnson across the hall.

Newcomers to Congress have said aloud that they won't be controlled by tradition. They point out that they can override decisions by the committee chairmen Mr. Sam appoints.

The labor - liberal coalition, for example, has enough votes to count down North Carolina's Rep. Barnden on the House Labor Committee and Rep. Cliff Davis, the man from Memphis who has run the Public Works Committee.

Sam Rayburn needs these men to make good his promise that there will not be a WPA outpouring of billions from the new Congress. If his chairmen have no power, the Southern bloc will have a rough time of it - for the Northerners expect to turn on the heat early in the session.

THE LABOR-LIBERAL coalition leaders are predicting that business will be slow the first half of '59. There will be some 4 1/2 million jobless. There will be such temporarily hard hit areas as Detroit and eastern Ohio, where half the miners are now jobless.

There will be new Okies - families moving from factory town to factory town as they once rolled from the dustbowl in search of work.

Watch, therefore, for the Northern coalition to flood the committees with billion dollar proposals for the building of schools, colleges, hospitals, roads, dams and for aid to depressed areas.

This WPA revival, as the conservatives dub it, will start a mighty row - until it is drowned out by the clinking of dollars in cash registers some time around mid-year.

Judging from what a score of businessmen have said in private conversations, this column therefore predicts such a boom midway in 1959.

This gold rush will end the cry for heavy relief spending. There will be happy talk on the industrial front. But not in Democratic party ranks. The feud will be on. The political chasm will deepen.

AND THIS WILL be a war in depth. For even this very minute, labor's Political Action Committees are preparing to battle in some 44 state capitals.

That is where you will see labor's machine attempt to change the laws which really count for the unions during regional picketing. Victory in these state legislatures, which usually met for a few months every two years, would give labor the same influence and prestige inside state political circles which it won during the national sweep last November.

Take it as a solid prediction, too, that as this network of political committees consolidates its operations on safe levels, it will waste no time swinging into hundreds of city elections - with 44 (sic) major municipalities already selected as special targets.

You'll hear no more talk of a third party from labor. You may hear it, however, from the conservative Democrats who are being handed their hats and told that they never really had a permanent lease. It only seemed that way. The union armies are marching against the South.

Canton Restaurant Destroyed by Fire

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—The El Rocco Restaurant here was destroyed by fire Sunday night, several hours after a 59-year-old man was burned to death in a house fire in Perry Twp.

Devere H. Schrier died in the fire at a two-story home at 118 Perry Rd. Miss Ruth Zaugg, owner of the property, was burned severely on the arms and face. Chief James Sanderson of the Perry Twp. Fire Department said the fire started in papers piled near a hot air duct downstairs. Damage to the El Rocco, formerly known as Yants Cottage, was estimated by firemen as $50,000.

Firemen blocked off busy Twelfth Street while they worked for nearly two hours to bring the fire under control. The cause of the fire was not determined, but firemen believe it started in the center of the one-floor structure near the kitchen and vestibule.

SHOOTS WIFE

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Nineteen-year-old James Rose told sheriff's detectives here he thought the .22 caliber revolver he pulled from a drawer was empty when he jokingly pointed it at his 18-year-old wife, Linda, Sunday and pulled the trigger. The gun fired and Mrs. Rose, the mother of a 3-month-old boy, was killed. Rose is being held on investigation of homicide.

No Sure Prevention for Hemorrhoids

There is no possible doubt whatever that hemorrhoids, or piles, are among the most common afflictions existing today.

Many correspondents write for information on this subject. They are particularly interested in whether they can be prevented, how to treat them when they are present, and whether or not they may lead to cancer.

With regard to avoiding or preventing hemorrhoids, it must be said that there is no sure way of doing so. Probably they arise for several reasons and, possibly, some people are more susceptible to them than others.

At any rate, there is no vaccine, local application or any other preventive measure which will guarantee that a person will not acquire this trouble.

It is thought that chronic constipation, strain, such as heavy lifting, a persistent cough and childbirth are factors which favor the development of piles. It has been suggested too that sedentary occupations involving sitting for long hours may increase the chances of their development.

Treatment I will discuss in a moment. But I can reassure readers that there is no reason to believe that hemorrhoids increase the chances of developing cancer, either in that region or elsewhere.

What are piles? They consist of enlarged or dilated veins known as hemorrhoidal veins lying around the outlet of the intestinal tract. Anything which increases the pressure of the blood passing through these veins weakens the walls so that they remain permanently enlarged. Occasionally, clots form in them which are extremely painful. These are usually absorbed after a relatively short time.

IT IS TRUE that sometimes the veins become temporarily greatly enlarged and then may return to normal or almost so. This happens quite often during and after childbirth, for example.

But if the piles are permanent and are causing bleeding, itching or discomfort (all of which are common) the best treatment is usually surgery. This involves cutting out or tying the enlarged veins, or both. Injecting them with an irritating fluid which causes them to close up is sometimes used but this is not always advisable.

When a person with hemorrhoids hemorrhoids are not the result of something else.

You Americans

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Two pretty and adventurous British secretaries, after a 15-month work-travel tour of America, have come up with these conclusions: "American bosses are more lenient than British bosses."

"In England you get longer lunch periods, but in America you have longer coffee breaks."

"Here a boy on a date asks a girl what she would like to do. In England he has a plan and tells her what they will do. But American boys, on the whole, are more enterprising."

The girls, Hilary Birley and Cecily Thompson, both 22, landed in this country in September, 1957, with $280 each and a determination to see the United States. They drew up their tour with the help of Manpower Inc., an organization specializing in providing industrial firms with skilled employees on a part-time or emergency basis.

In their journey across America and back the two girls held some 40 jobs and earned about $2,200 each.

"We held about every type of job you can imagine," said Hilary. "We waited on tables in Aspen, Colo. We mixed drinks at a convention in San Francisco, we made surveys in Minneapolis, we worked as secretaries in several cities."

"People everywhere were friendly and willing to give us jobs," said Cecily. "We could have earned a lot more, but we took a number of vacations so we could get to see more."

The girls bought a second-hand car in San Francisco for $160—"we named it Celeste"—and drove it 9,000 miles. They then reluctantly sold it to a Minneapolis junk dealer for $30 rather than invest $50 more to repair it.

The high-spirited girls said the biggest blow to their pride came in Aspen when they overheard a chef grumble: "I wish those girls would learn to speak English."

"But we ran into a number of misconceptions about Britain," said Cecily. "Many people here still seem to have the idea that the British working class is oppressed, that food is rationed in our country, that the British have no sense of humor, and that everyone in England drinks tea. Neither of us happens to like tea."

What thing about America upset them most? "I suppose," said Hilary, "it was the time we went on a date out West and one of the boys ordered a hamburger and topped it with a slice of pineapple and a maraschino cherry."

And the hardest thing about America to adjust to? "Girls going to work in the morning still wearing bobby pins in their hair," said Cecily. "No, men wearing T-shirts in public," said Hilary.

What did they miss most from their homeland?

"The taste of good sharp cheese," said Cecily. "Here all your cheese seems to be processed."

"We both missed the year-round greenness of England," added Hilary.

What quality do they think the British have that Americans lack? "An ability to amuse themselves," said Hilary, after a thoughtful pause. "The British are more self-sufficient in the use of leisure. The American is likely to be at loose ends if he doesn't find something outside himself to entertain him."

And Cecily added: "The British young people have more respect for their government, their police and their elders."

But both girls agreed they'd had a wonderful time and would like to come again. They also think it would be a fine idea if more American working girls would go to Britain and Europe and learn about living conditions there on a similar job-travel program.

"The best way to learn a country is to work in it," said Hilary.

Batista Lost the Sugar

The circumstantial evidence is that the Cuban revolutionists have won and the established government has lost. Fulgencio Batista, Cuban president, has fled to the Dominican Republic — and that would indicate he has conceded the success of the revolution. But it is still too early to be positive.

Like the battle against sin, the revolution in Cuba goes on and on, Fidel Castro didn't have to overthrow the Batista regime to win. It would lose if it could not destroy him and his revolutionary followers.

There are more of these now, apparently, than there were a year ago. Certainly there are more than there were five years ago, when Castro was a student agitator.

Many observers have tried to put into words what he stands for in his role as a revolutionist, without marked success. But there is no difficulty in describing what he stands against — the dictatorship of Fulgencio Batista, who has dominated Cuban politics for more than 25 years.

It may be, as Batista says, that Castro's followers include criminals and Communists. They may be all the things their critics say they are. But essentially they are Cubans opposed to the continuation of Batista, and in that opinion they have been gaining converts rapidly enough to hold their own in a war of attrition.

Moreover, there have been persistent reports that Cuban soldiers do not like to go into action against their fellow countrymen and that middle-class and professional elements in the population, convinced that Batista cannot put down the revolution, are beginning to find merit in Castro as the likeliest means of restoring stability.

The United States, once committed to intervene in Cuban politics, is staying out of the clash, though it has been obliged to help the government in power in the same way it must help all established governments which it recognizes. Its interest in Cuba is twofold — first as a strategic location in national defense plans, second as a source of sugar.

The sugar harvest begins this month. It had been evident for a long time that if the Batista regime could not keep Castro and his followers from interfering with the harvest, it would have no claim on perpetuity. Cuban governments exist primarily to make certain that nothing can happen to the sugar crop.

There were some who suspected the Batista regime's primary interest had been to make certain that nothing could happen to the U.S.-supported gambling industry in Cuba — a suspicion confirmed by the fact the gambling casinos were the first targets of revolutionary wrath when revolutionists began to run riot in Havana.

You Did a Fine Job, Slowpoke

Before throwing out the holly and the hollydays, there is an acknowledgment some of us would like to make.

We appreciate the automobile driver who got through Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year in his customary safe and sane manner.

He was duly impressed with all the scare stories about the drunken fools and other internal combustion cowboys who would make a shambles of auto traffic. But he was not overly impressed, because he knew the fools and the cowboys would not mend their ways, and he knew it would be his responsibility to take care of himself, the same as he aims to do 465 days a year.

He would drive as if murderers were stalking him. He would take no chances on speed, unless he happened to be driving on a speedway. He would not drink and drive, unless the two operations were safely separated from each other in time and space. He would give himself the advantage of every doubt, in the hope of a long life for himself, his passengers and his fellowmen.

This is for you, Slowpoke. Congratulations on making it safely through another year. No one ever praises you, but you and yours are the main line of highway defense. Bad drivers, like juvenile delinquents, are only a tiny fraction, but they get all the attention. No one spares a hand to put good drivers on the head.

This is for you, Slowpoke. Maybe you never peeled out at an intersection, passed on a hill or a curve, or made anyone's eyes bug with your speed, but you're still alive. And your chances are getting better all the time, thanks to the way you are developing more skill in the art of staying alive though driving.

Good Basketball

As anticipated, Salem High School is enjoying another good basketball season.

The big difference this year is the new gymnasium at the Senior High where the fans, new and old, have been cheering the Quakers to five victories, and with more to come.

The return of the spectators night after night is evidence of their pleasure over the new gym and a tribute to the Quakers whose fine floor work and ball handling is matched by their uncanny accuracy with hook shots, pivots and jumps. Nine more home games remain on the current schedule before tournament time. If you see one, we'll wager you'll be back for another.

Wise Decision

The traffic signal light is back in operation at the corner of Third St. and N. Lundy Ave., replacing a blinker light that had cautioned motorists for the past several months.

The blinker signal would have been all right, except that it offered no protection for children crossing the street to and from Fourth Street School. Any precaution taken to protect the lives of small children is worthy and City Council's decision to re-install the traffic signal was wise.

Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

How folks miss their newspapers was perhaps never better realized as in recent New York strike. They suffered from hunger pains for daily paper. It was the first time we ever knew undernourishment could come from a lack of ink in the blood stream.

"You look awful. Are you sick?" was a question that could bring the answer, "I feel worse than I look. Certainly I'm sick. I haven't been able to take any solid news in over two weeks."

For the first time millions developed a positive love for their newspaper, feeling its absence as they would feel that of a wife who suddenly fled the house leaving only a note: "Don't feel lonely. You can always play solitaire."

THERE'S NOTHING like a suspension of newspapers to awaken folks to their importance in their way of life. Important as world news is, the folks now realize how much it means not to know who had a baby, got pinched for speeding, slipped in the bathtub, eloped with the milkman, celebrated a wedding anniversary, sold a cow or lost a dog.

After a single day without his newspaper a man fully understands what it does to him to be left in the dark, even about people he doesn't know.

The fire in the delicatessen store, the temperature in Sioux City, the gal who won the beauty prize in Holbrook Hills, the outlook for a caterpillar moth bight in 1959 and the news somebody's cat had a litter of nine kittens mean a lot when we're cut off from them.

MAJOR NEWS is all important but it's the countless minor items from the birth of a buffalo at the zoo to the dropping of one coach on the commuter train that features the appetite of newspaper readers. He is sunk, saddened and sore when he doesn't know who's been sued, promoted or died suddenly. Probably the women were hardest hit.

Take Your Time In '59

If motorists would take their time in '59, Salem and the rest of Columbiana County might be spared a high traffic death and injury toll this year.

Eighteen persons were killed and 403 others were injured in 811 traffic mishaps investigated by the State Patrol in the county district last year and this did not include four traffic deaths inside corporations.

Although this toll was down slightly, compared to the previous year, it could be reduced considerably if all motorists would resolve right now that during the months to come they would not speed—the cause of most accidents—and would always give the other fellow the right-of-way, whether it's legally his or not. The maxim, "discretion is the better part of valor," is applicable to motoring. You may be right, but you don't want to be dead right!

Nothing makes the months roll around faster than paying on the installment plan.

Christmas season without the advertisements was plain murder. One thing demonstrated was that radio and TV are no substitutes. Humans can take airwave news and commercials or leave 'em alone. But the newspaper is a member of the family circle.

"CITY INTENSIFIES HUNT For Money"—headline. And it calls for bloodhounds. Johnny Unitas, greatest of football passers, was rejected by Notre Dame and Indiana and by several pro teams. When signed a couple of years ago he was playing with a Pittsburgh sandlot team for $6 a game.

Terry Brennan hung up his stocking but it didn't get good blocking.

Another rise in postage stamps is proposed. Gangway for the time payment special delivery.

We just heard of the kid who got a watch for Christmas and asked, "But where is the outboard motor that goes with it for shock tests?"

"THE PRESIDENT'S plea to cut federal spending and balance the budget seems deflationary from the viewpoint of the national economy, inflationary in its impact upon price trends, dangerous to national defense and blind in terms of the world situation."—Leon Keyserling. Yeah, and besides, it makes sense in the American tradition of wanting to avoid bankruptcy.

Secretary Benson took a fall on the ice while skating. This gives his critics support of their contention he is mistaken about the needs for supports.

"It's about time people let up on Eddie. I figure when a guy has done a stretch for a year he's paid his debt." — Jerry Lewis. Ya mean clinging to your wife and the mother of your kids for that period constitutes servitude, especially over the Christmas season!!!

Going to Be Interesting to Watch

Cold War and Cultural Front

By PETER EDSON

A report on what might be called the cultural front of the cold war has just been made to President Eisenhower by Maxwell Rabb, chairman of U.S. delegates to the six-weeks' United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization's 10th session in Paris.

Most people think of the cold war as political or economic warfare is considered no less important.

The fact that President Eisenhower named his former Cabinet secretary to head the 25-member U.S. delegation to Paris is taken as an indication of a new White House interest.

UNESCO HAS ALWAYS been something of a U.N. stepchild. Its functions and usefulness have been misunderstood.

Now moved into a three-million-dollar modernist palace in Paris featuring a 400 square-foot Picasso mural which exposes the world's largest navel on a reclining figure of undetermined sex—UNESCO is considered impractical and long-hair. In the U.S. it has been criticized as being Communist-dominated.

The curious thing about this last criticism, Mr. Rabb points out, is that the chief Russian delegate, A. N. Kuznetsov this year, criticized UNESCO as being a tool of imperialist warmongers in the west.

This puts American critics of UNESCO in bed with the Communist critics—for exactly opposite reasons.

A fairer appraisal lies some place between these extremes.

THE RECORD SHOWS, according to Chairman Rabb, that on every vote at the Paris UNESCO session, a majority of the 81 member nations voted two to one with the U.S.

This happened on Russian moves to admit Communist China to UNESCO, to kick out Nationalist China and to place the seating of Red China on the UNESCO agenda for debate.

The Russians also tried to substitute an Asian nominee for Dr. Vittorino Veronesi, prominent Italian Catholic Action leader, elected UNESCO's director for six years.

Uncertain Future

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The Cuban revolution is only one of a multitude of uncertainties today facing Americans with investments and trade abroad.

In all parts of the globe 1959 should offer answers to questions now baffling American business planners.

Here is the state:

American private investment abroad is approaching 37 billion dollars, the Department of Commerce reports. The total exports of commercial merchandise by American concerns in 1958 is estimated at 17 billion dollars by the National Foreign Trade Council — and with luck it should rise in 1959.

Here are some of the trouble spots:

CUBA: Americans have about one billion dollars invested in the sugar, oil and tourist industries. The uncertainty: what the attitude of the new Castro government will be toward outsiders. For the sugar trade and American consumers the question: Will the approaching sugar harvest enter world trade on schedule, keeping American refineries busy and the price of sugar here stable?

VENEZUELA: The old 50-50 split of profits between American and other oil companies and the government has been changed to 40-60. U.S. concerns are protesting getting the short end of the deal and the final outcome is still up in the air. Worrying them as much as anything is the effect this example could have on their vast holdings in the — MIDDLE EAST: Already some inroads have been made on the traditional 50-50 arrangement; more are being talked up. Also furling the brows of oilmen is the general political unrest. Nasserism, communism and the Israeli question keep Americans on an almost daily alert.

INDONESIA: Political strife has had the oil and rubber companies on the defensive. All is quiet at the moment but Americans are not sure for how long.

ARGENTINA: How to develop the oil industry there is just part of a general fiscal crisis, with Americans in the thick of it.

BRAZIL: A monetary crisis keeps American companies watchful. The coffee surplus — and what's to be done about it — will affect both American roaster and consumers.

THE COMMON MARKET: France, West Germany, Italy, Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg are starting a lengthy process of lowering tariff walls among themselves and presenting a common tariff front to outsiders. Americans fear that will make it harder for them to sell in the six nations, and will make it easier for the six to take world markets away from Americans. U.S. companies also are wondering if they should open more plants inside the common market.

RUSSIA: The uncertainty here is global now. The Soviets have declared a trade war on the United States. They are out to take world markets from us wherever they can and when it suits their policies to try.

Russian efforts to convert UNESCO into a political organization were thus thwarted at every turn. It was the sense of the 500 delegates—all intellectual leaders in their countries — that UNESCO should stick to culture.

The 80 other members of UNESCO are divided roughly into two cultural categories. There are the older nations whose cultures go back many centuries. And there are underdeveloped countries whose cultures have not yet emerged.

At the Paris meeting, says Mr. Rabb, there was general recognition that the United States was not just a materialistic society, but a country which had a real contribution to make to world cultural advancement.

Previously, Russia claimed a monopoly on promoting cultural ties with other countries. But at Paris, the Russians were criticized for their suppression of the novel "Dr. Zhivago."

Without mentioning Author Boris Pasternak by name, Chairman Rabb was able to "deplore the brutal suppression of the creative spirit by lands which boasted of their culture in the ballet, music and the arts."

THE U. S. DELEGATION to UNESCO also had the opportunity to upset Communist culture propaganda by sponsoring what became known as "the doctrine of the open mind."

This was embodied in resolutions which called for a freer flow of information for the reporting of both sides of United Nations debates. Jamming of foreign radio broadcasts was opposed. This question was referred to the U.N. General Assembly.

Other programs on which the UNESCO session voted to place more emphasis in the next two years include research on development of water resources for arid areas and promotion of basic education in areas of high illiteracy.

UNESCO's budget for the next two years is approximately 26 million dollars, which isn't much when contrasted with other cold war costs. The U.S. share of this budget is four million dollars a year, the Russian share about half that.

The True Conservative

By RAYMOND MOLEY

Has Tastes, Habits of Workers

As the New Year begins, just before big news and public problems explode all over the place, it may be worth while to consider some fundamentals.

The following reflections are inspired by thinking about the plight of conservatives, especially those in the Republican party.

The failure of some American conservatives, as shown in the election returns, is suggested by a motto which I saw over the fireplace in an inn at Stowe, Vt.: "We get too soon old and too late schmidt."

I am not now repeating the old charge that they want to "go back to McKinley," for the economic world of 1900 is as far away from us now as that of the Ming Dynasty. Nor the outworn saw that they would "go back to Hoover," because in fact Herbert Hoover was extraordinarily liberal in his economic ideas.

So let's not talk about "going back" to anything except the basic constitutional guarantees of American liberty.

THE THING that concerns me about some conservatives is their preoccupation with denouncing the liberal Democrats and modern Republicans by name-calling, or their reliance on easy solutions to the specific social and economic problems that have been and will be confronting Congress.

Among these is a return to the gold standard or merely balancing the budget or halting all foreign aid or breaking all relations with Soviet Russia.

All these might be ultimate objectives but to insist upon one or all is not a tenable political platform or anything but a means of immediately upsetting the economic applecart.

The conservatives who, I believe, cannot share their extreme position are mostly businessmen who have themselves come up the hard way, many professional men and women of the same cast of mind and millions in the middle-income groups.

A passage in one of Matthew Arnold's essays published exactly 90 years ago is immediately pertinent.

It Pays To Get Married

Young men... old men... middle-aged men! It pays to get married.

At least in France and the United States, that is.

Statistics at the National Office of Vital statistics have put together a lot of figures that present a fairly convincing case. They've been corroborated by data from the French Institute National de la Statistique et des Etudes Economiques.

French figures show that a young married man of 36 can expect to live six years longer than his unmarried—or divorced—cousin.

The American figures show that an unmarried or divorced man of 35 to 44 has two-and-a-half times as great a chance of dying this year as does his married brother.

EVEN AN American unmarried 75-year-old has almost a 40 per cent greater chance of dying than if he were married.

There are a lot of theories as to what his means. The Americans have some pretty complicated and stodgy ones. The French, however, simply say of the married man:

"He is less inclined to yield to all sorts of temptations."

And it may be said, even the American statistics seem to bear out the French theory.

It should be mentioned in passing, that married women live longer, too, than unmarried women both in France and in the United States.

What then do these married men and women get out of married life? Here are the astounding details.

STRANGE AS IT may seem, married men apparently have fewer ulcers than unmarried men. At least fewer married men die of them. And fewer married men die of hypertension. Furthermore,

Thoughts

How can I myself alone bear your cumberance, your burden, and your strife?—Deut. 1:12.

The cup which my Saviour giveth me, can it be anything but a cup of salvation?—Alexander MacLaren.

O Lord of hosts, God of Israel, that dwellest between the cherubins, thou art the God, even thou alone, of all the kingdoms of the earth: thou hast made heaven and earth—Isaiah 37:16.

God only opened His hand to give flight to a thought that He had held imprisoned from eternity.—Timothy Titcomb.

Barbs

Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he will send forth labourers into his harvest. — Matthew 9:38.

The News invites letters from its readers on all important current topics, but the letters should be brief, not to exceed 300 words and they must bear the signature and address of the writer to insure publication. Unsigned letters can not be published.

He referred to an aristocracy newly arisen in England which was challenging the old land owning, titled nobility.

These, he said, owed their preeminence to "staunch individualism... to that passion for doing what one likes, for the assertion of personal liberty."

They possessed, he added, all of the fundamental tastes and habits of the workers, including the love of freedom of choice which is the person.

INSTEAD OF WINNING the workers to their side, however, that aristocracy permitted Gladstonian Liberalism to take over for a generation. And the reforms of that Liberalism consisted in doing more and for, and not with the workers. The Liberal was a patron, not a comrade of the worker.

It is so with the so-called intellectuals and labor bosses here and now who dominate the liberal group and, with it, the Democratic party. The great gap in their armor is their reliance upon paternalism by and with the government.

I have just read a book by a modern liberal economist and there isn't a word about the individual and his freedom of choice.

These people are neither liberal in a true sense nor democratic. They are the elite, the "we" who would do something for the people whose instincts and preferences they neither know nor respect.

The course of true conservatism is to revive the spirit of individualism in all. All government policies, like that advocated by the Farm Bureau Federation for the farmers, should be aimed at moving toward self-help and self-reliance.

There must be some intervention of government but always aimed at its own extinction by creating the conditions by which people can provide for their own security and happiness.

Those conditions require reasonable protection, never paternalism. The goal of real conservatism must be to stress the very qualities which they themselves possess.

The Associated Newspapers

fewer widowers die of ulcers than men who have never been married. As for women; very few women have ulcers anyway, married or single, divorced or widowed.

Single men have a greater chance of being murdered, or of dying of pneumonia, tuberculosis, cancer and heart disease.

Three times as many widowers commit suicide as their married friends.

Until they reach 50, single men are more likely to die of hernia. After 50, there's no advantage in being married as far as hernia is concerned.

THE WAY IT LOOKS from the figures, more married women than single drink themselves to death. With men, it's the other way around. But before concluding that marriage is bad for a woman's nerves, note that the drinking-to-death rate goes up sharply for women who are widowed or divorced. Except for divorced women over 75.

More divorced men are anemic. Apparently at any age from 20 to 80, a single man has twice as great a chance of being killed in an automobile accident as a married man. Widowers have an even harder time staying alive in autos. And a divorced man of 75 has three times the chance of dying in a car as his married friends of the same age.

For a woman, however, there are times when it's safer for her to be single when in an automobile—under 20 and between 34 and 69. From then on it's safer for her to be a widow, as far as cars are concerned.

BY AND LARGE, married women apparently get — statistically — fewer benefits than their married husbands.

There are, apparently some disadvantages to being married. More married women are murdered. More die of diabetes and appendicitis.

Married men have a worse time with goiter. However, compared with married women, almost two times as many widows die of heart disease, two to three times as many divorcees die in auto accidents, four times as many widows are murdered, four times as many divorcees commit suicide.

Some women researchers have concluded it is better for men to get married and better for women to stay single. But if a woman does marry it is better for her not to become a widow.

Air Pressure Used to Insulate Inaccessible Areas In Homes

A puzzled home owner writes: "A year ago we bought a small house in a development. Last winter our fuel bills were nearly twice as high as bills paid by some of our friends who live in much larger homes. "Suspecting lack of insulation, I poked my head into our tiny crawl space attic for the first time and found I was almost right: the builder had installed only a single thin sheet of foil insulation between the floor joists. "Because the roof of the house has such a low pitch, it would be virtually impossible for me or anyone to install insulation blankets up there. Do you know of any other method of getting insulation in?"

Home buyers get themselves into this kind of a fix all too often by failing to inspect a house for the kind of insulation that will insure economical heating and more summer comfort.

But all is not lost. Fortunately, mineral wool engineers have developed a method of insulating walls of older homes and other inaccessible areas such as crawl space attics.

The method employs air pressure to force mineral wool through a long, flexible tube, actually blowing it in a stream that gets into every crack and crevice, providing a thick blanket of heat-stopping insulation.

When an attic accessible only through a trap door is insulated, the method works like this:

The insulation contractor arrives in a special truck loaded with mineral wool and pumping equipment. A workman with a long, flexible tube attached to the truck comes into the house, opens the trap door, and begins blowing mineral wool into the attic.

In a surprisingly short time, the job is finished. There's no mess to clean up, and the attic floor is packed with a thick blanket of fireproof mineral wool that will give trouble-free service as long as the house exists.

When walls are insulated, workmen outside the house remove small pieces of siding and blow mineral wool in through holes drilled in the sheathing. The siding is carefully replaced after the wall is filled with insulation leaving no noticeable trace of the work done.

Weather Change Affects Structure Of Your House

Expansion and contraction of building materials caused by temperature changes from season to season can open up tiny cracks in the weather-proof armor of a house.

For this reason it's a good idea for the home owner, caulking gun in hand, to inspect outside walls and areas around windows, doors, and foundation at least twice yearly.

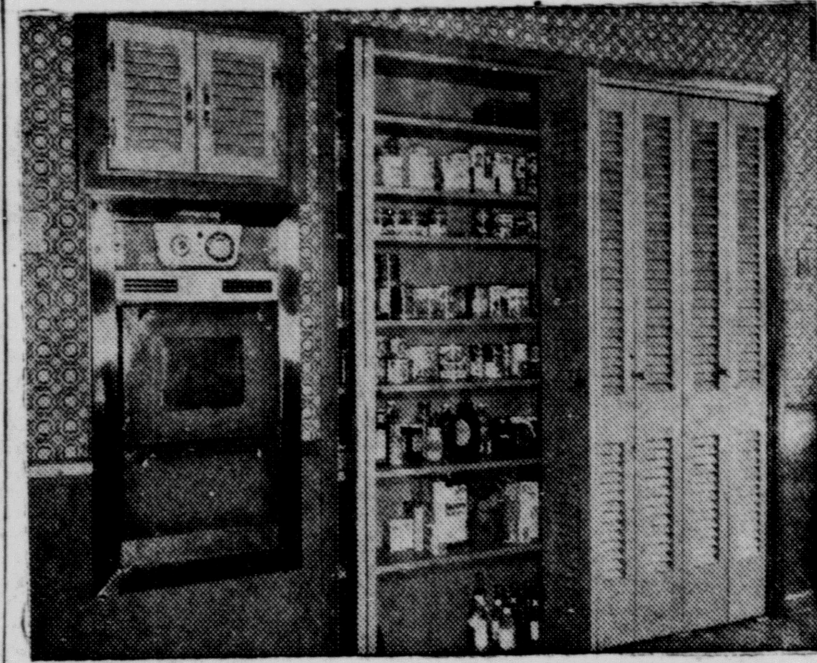

Even cracks that are almost invisible can let heat escape in winter and are open doorways for dust and insects.

One area of the house that is unaffected by expansion and contraction is a roof of asphalt shingles. This is because asphalt shingles have a tough flexibility that permits them to absorb normal swelling and shrinkage of other components of the structure.

If the roof is old and weather-worn, however, it should be inspected along with the rest of the house. This should be done by a reliable roofing contractor who can tell quickly if the old material is giving adequate protection.

Ideal for Small Kitchen

New Pantry Saves Grouping

Here's a unique idea for a pantry that eliminates the frustration of blind groping and fumbling for canned goods and other packaged foods, yet does not require much floor space.

In the kitchen shown, shelves were constructed when the house was constructed and louver shutters of ponderosa pine added later. In an existing house, a similar pantry could be constructed in an unused wall space by simply cutting away the plaster of gypsum board on one side and installing shelves between the studs.

The four-inch depth of the studs is adequate for most cans, bottles, and small boxes, yet keeps the shelves shallow enough to avoid the annoyance of one item hiding behind another.

The ponderosa pine shutters, painted or stained, provide an attractive textured surface, yet permit air to circulate in the pantry. These shutters are available in stock from building material dealers and come in widths and heights to suit most purposes.

Raise the Roof to Gain Space Air Pressure Used to Insulate

Don't blow your top if your family is growing too fast for your house. Instead, raise the roof.

That's just what the owner of the house in the photograph did recently to make room for his expanding family. By literally raising the roof of his St. Louis bungalow, he added three bedrooms and space for a bath to what had been a five-room, one-story house.

Like many owners of small houses on small lots, this family decided to go upward when they realized they couldn't build outward without taking up too much of their rear yard.

Once the decision was made, the rest was comparatively easy. A new superstructure for walls and roof was erected atop the old roof, and a new roof of asphalt shingles applied.

Before the interior was partitioned off and finished with gypsum board, the owner installed mineral wool four inches thick in the ceiling and three inches thick in the walls to insure summer comfort and economical winter heating.

Another savings was in the use of double-hung window units of ponderosa pine. These helped reduce labor costs, since they are assembled at the factory and need only be nailed into the window opening when they arrive at the building site.

Total cost of the expansion, including roughed-in plumbing for

Quakers Rip Youngstown East 79-48 For 5th Victory

Woody Deitch Tosses In 26

Quakers Hit 49% of Field Goal Attempts

By GORDON ARNDT

Salem's potentially high-ranking Quakers had no trouble in recording their fifth win of the season Saturday night on the home floor as they rolled over an out-manned Youngstown East squad 79-48 before some 1,700 fans.

Scoring in spurts that were triggered by the fine 26-point performance of Woody Deitch the locals broke away from the visitors in the middle of the first period and proceeded to chalk up their second successive victory by 31 points. They had pulverized New Philadelphia by that margin Friday evening 89-58.

The victory boosted the Quakers to 5-1 for the season while East dropped to .500 at 4-4.

Behind Deitch in the victors' scoring column was Lou Slaby and Jim Lehwald both with 12 tallies.

DAN KRICHBAUM, who tossed in 25 against New Philly, was off in his shooting Saturday even on layups and ended with nine points. However, he still proved his role as Mr. Organizer in the Salem attack with passes to mates for easy pairs of points.

Slaby led Salem in the rebound department by picking off 12 missed shots while Clyde Marks had seven and 5-10 Dave Hunter six.

Salem seemed to lack the spark and drive which highlighted their win over New Philly but the strong Red and Black cagers still proved too much for the badly outclassed East team.

Salem was never behind although the score was 3-3 at the 6:32 mark in the opening frame. Deitch and Hunter divided Salem's first half-dozen points and with 5:26 left the Quakers led 6-4.

THE LOCALS then proceeded to stop toying with the Youngstown ers and went on an 11-point spree which put them ahead 17-4 with 1:15 left. This spurt was sparked by the rebounding of Slaby and the passing of Hunter and Krichbaum.

The quarter ended with Salem in front 18-6.

Hunter picked up two personal fouls in the first period in dropping off his man to help Slaby defend against 6-4 Jim Snowden of East. The visitors' big gun finished with 15 points but didn't play much because he was removed after picking up his fourth personal with 6:34 left in the first half.

Early in the second period Jim Solomen and Lehwald replaced Marks and Krichbaum for Salem. Snowden was removed at the 6:02 mark for Little.

The squads traded baskets for the first five minutes of the period and with 3:17 left Salem led 29-19. However, just 67 seconds later East had pulled to within 29-23 on scoring by Little and Bob Santor. The Quakers faltered here somewhat because they lost the ball too many times on simple changeovers such as steps, double-dribbles and bad passes. The local would fast break alright but didn't culminate each effort with a goal but with a mistake.

EAST' HONEYMOON didn't last long because once more the Salemites settled down and went to work with the eagerness of a Beaver building a dam.

With 1:57 left in the half Lehwald tossed in a southpaw hook and inside the next minute and 50 seconds Salem was on top 39-23 following additional help on a jump shot by Slaby and another goal by Lehwald, a jump by Deitch and a brace of charity tosses by Marks.

Bill Jones added two fouls for East with three seconds remaining and Salem left the floor at intermission with a 39-25 lead.

In the first half 14 fouls were called on East and 11 on Salem.

The point production of each aggregation in the third stanza was an exact replica of the first frame with Salem out-pointing East 18-6.

Krichbaum, Slaby and Deitch scored Salem's first four points here and with 4:43 left Salem led 43-28.

The locals then got to clicking on the scoring of Deitch and Slaby to leave the East team in the dust. The quarter ended with Salem in front 57-31. The victors' scoring here was paced by the drive-in shots of Slaby and three successive jump attempts by Deitch. Krichbaum was removed for Lehwald at the 4:23 mark after getting his fourth personal.

SALEM started slow at the outset of the last quarter and were outscored 9-4 before they again got to functioning effectively. East's spurt on scoring by Snowden, Santor and Ed McElroy brought Pete Lanzi's team to within 61-40 with 4:58 left.

Salem's blood-thirsty student rooters got a bit provoked at their club's performance here and began bawling out a chant while stomping their feet on the wooden stands. This brought out Athletic Director Fred E. Cope who quickly stopped the rebellion with a few well-placed words. The Quakers apparently took heed of their followers along with some advice by Coach Cabas and once again went at their work like they meant it. In the next minute and 23 seconds the Salem squad had tallied eight straight points, six by Deitch to bounce way ahead 69-40 with 3:25 left.

Slaby didn't play at all in the final quarter. Solomen started the frame for him and was replaced by Ed Yates at the 3:06 post.

ERICK THEISS, who scored four points, came in for Marks at the 4:26 mark. Fred Harshman replaced Deitch who left amid an ovation at the 2:14 pole while Tim Burchfield and Carl Dunn entered the game for Krichbaum and Lehwald at the 2:12 and 1:25 marks, respectively.

In the last three minutes and 25 seconds Salem's reserves outscored East 10-8.

Salem once more had a fantastic percentage in field goal attempts. They hit on 28 of 57 for 49 per cent while East made 16 of 58 for 28 per cent. In foul shooting, Salem canned 23 of 35 and East 16 of 27.

The Quakers next home game will be Saturday against Ravenna. This Friday they will travel to Warren.

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Lisle W. (Liz) Blackburn, the man who coached Marquette University football teams from 1950 to 1953, was back on the job today after a lapse of five years.

And Marquette hopes he is the man who will lead the Warriors out of the football dumps. Marquette has won only 7 of 47 games since Blackburn's departure in 1953.

"There is a good deal of work ahead," Blackburn said.

Blackburn, 58, coached the Green Bay Packers for four seasons, winning 17 and losing 31.

He was fired after the 1957 season, then went to Carroll College in Waukesha, Wis., for a year and won 6 of 8 games.

Last Minute Surge by Fairfield Fails

Gophers Nip Rebels 55-53 In Thriller

The Goshen Union Gophers edged Fairfield-Waterford's Rebels 55-53 in a seesaw basketball game on the Goshen floor fought hard all the way. The loss was the second in seven outings for the Rebels.

The Gophers, who weren't ahead by more than three points the entire first half, were hard pressed by the Rebels in posting quarter leads of 7-6 and 20-19.

The Fairfield defense wasn't functioning properly during the first three minutes of the third stanza as the Rebels permitted the Gophers to score 14 points while they netted four.

The Rebels outscored the Gophers in the last five minutes of the period 8 points to 7.

The last period was a different story, with the Rebels doing most of the scoring. They poured in 22 points to only 14 for Goshen.

Goshen's rebounding and shooting, which had been good for most of the game, were way off the mark in the final period.

The real scare for Goshen came in the last minute of play when the Rebels scored six points to none for the Gophers.

The victory is the Gophers' sixth in seven starts.

Scoring honors for the evening went to Lee Chamberlain of the Rebels who scored 21 points; second was the Rebels' Laverne Kessler with 17.

High point men for Goshen were Ed Daugherty and Chuck Brown, each with 15 points.

Goshen's Reserves ripped the Rebel Reserves 45 to 28 in a preliminary game.

The next home game for Goshen will be Tuesday against Jackson-Milton on the Goshen hardwood. Fairfield-Waterford's next game is also Tuesday night against Springfield Township at home.

Steve O'Neill, Dillard Fired By Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—Fresh from the heat of the Cuban revolution General Manager Frank Lane was back in frigid Cleveland today to work with his front office staff on plans or the 1959 Cleveland Indians.

That staff has been reduced by two. Steve O'Neill, a scout-at-large since 1954, and Harrison Dillard, in public relations and farm club office work for nearly 10 years, were cut loose with the start of the new year.

O'Neill, at 67, has been in baseball nearly a half century. He caught for Cleveland from 1911 to 1923 and was tribe manager from 1935 to 1937 and Detroit Tigers' manager from 1943 to 1948. He returned to Cleveland as a coach in 1949.

Dillard, who starred in two Olympic games as a hurdler and dash man while he was employed by the Tribe, retired from track in 1956.

Lane went to Havana Dec. 27 to try to pick up some playing talent in the winter league and to sign Minnie Minoso. He reported that the three Indians playing ball there—Mino, Dick Brown and Al Cicotte—all were in a remote beach area and in no danger from revolutionary gunfire.

"Tommyguns in the hands of 16-year-old volunteers punched my ample midriff too many times for comfort, Lane said in a telegram to the ball club here after he flew into Miami Saturday from Havana.

"I kept thinking I was looking at a movie until 'whang' a bullet would hit the wall and I knew it wasn't a movie," Lane told a Miami newsmen.

NCAA Eyes Confab With Major Leagues

CINCINNATI (AP)—College baseball coaches today expressed optimism that a summit meeting may be held sometime in the future with representatives of the major leagues.

LeRoy Timm, coach at Iowa State College and president of the American Assn. of Baseball Coaches, stressed that the organization feels its relationship with professional baseball has improved and that such a meeting is not a necessity.

"We are not seeking a hassle with the pros," Timm said, "but we do, as always, object to indiscriminate signing of college players."

"If a boy is an excellent prospect and deserves a chance to play pro baseball, we are glad to see him get that opportunity, but we are never happy when pro scouts sign a boy and merely succeed in disrupting his education."

But Timm said he believes the whole subject of college-pro relationship in baseball has gotten out of perspective. He said a summit meeting between the college group and a major league delegation made up of Commissioner Ford Frick and the owners would help clear up the situation.

The coaches took no formal action along these lines, but day-long committee meetings were held Sunday as the AABC opened its 14th annual convention, one of several preliminary and allied meetings to be held here this week in conjunction with the 53rd annual convention of the National Collegiate Athletic Assn.

The majority of 2,200 delegates were on hand today as the NCAA and the American Football Coaches Assn. began to lay the groundwork for other meetings later in the week.

Fullbacks Feted For Senior Bowl Duty

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Two of the finest passers in the land were on the field. But two hard running fullbacks took the laurels in Saturday's 10th annual Senior Bowl game, won by the South 21-12.

Coach Paul Brown of the Cleveland Browns had Baylor's Buddy Humphrey at the South controls in the nationally televised game. Lee Grosscup of Utah was the starter at quarterback for North Coach Joe Kuharich of Notre Dame.

Humphrey was the nation's leading passer this season. Grosscup was No. 1 a year ago.

But it was Theron Sapp of Georgia and Norm Odyniec of Notre Dame who won honors. They both scored TDs and tied in the poll of sports writers for most valuable player.

Cincy Braced for Bradley Tilt; Auburn Will Meet Mississippi

By The Associated Press
Humiliated by two consecutive defeats in the Dixie Classic last week, Cincinnati and Big O, Osceola Robertson, jump right back into the fire tonight when they tangle with Bradley.

All last season, the Bearcats lost only three games. Bradley licked them early in the campaign. Then it was Oklahoma State and finally Kansas State in the NCAA tournament. They took Bradley over the second time around, however.

This is a big one for Robertson and company. Their pride has been hurt. More realistically, Bradley is rated the only team in the Missouri Valley Conference with the possible exception of St. Louis, with a chance of knocking Cincinnati out of the title.

The Braves also are undefeated, having raced past all eight of their opponents to date. They warmed up to their task by turning back Drake, 91-57, Saturday night.

Another worry for Cincinnati is the possibility of being knocked right out of the top 10 in the weekly Associated Press poll. None of the others in the select circle last week has lost more than one game and three—Kentucky, Auburn and Bradley—are undefeated.

Kentucky, riding along at the top of the heap with 11 victories—high in the nation—polished off Georgia Tech, 72-62, Saturday.

But Adolph Rupp's slick Wildcats may not have things easy this year. Already they're casting worried looks over their shoulder in the direction of Auburn. The Wildcats won the 1958 Southeastern Conference title by just one game over Auburn, which is about as thin as you can slice it.

The Plainsmen figure to make Mississippi their ninth straight victim tonight after dealing Mississippi State its first defeat, 97-66, Saturday.

Kansas State, No. 3 in the nation behind Kentucky and Cincinnati, has been the class of the Big 8 so far in non-league games and opens its loop season against Iowa State.

The same can't be said of Northwestern, which along with Michigan State, is the current co-favorite in the Big 10 race. The Wildcats barely edged Iowa, 80-77 in their league opener Saturday and Coach Bill Rohr observed that "we were lucky to get out alive."

Northwestern is ranked No. 6 and Michigan State No. 7 in the AP ratings. The Spartans had a close shave, too, nipping Indiana, the defending champion, 79-77.

Northwestern plays Michigan tonight and Michigan State goes against Iowa.

In the Atlantic Coast Conference, the main battle is developing between North Carolina and North Carolina State. They are running 4-5 in the AP poll and have almost identical records—8-1 for the Tar Heels and 9-1 for State.

The Tar Heels turned back Notre Dame, 69-54, in a nationally televised game Saturday.

After a week of activity in the Pacific Coast Conference, Southern California leads the parade with a 2-0 mark. Defending champion California has a 1-1 mark.

Texas A&M so far has justified its role as Southwest Conference favorite by clipping Southern Methodist, 65-66, Saturday to run its overall record to 9-1. In the Southern Conference, it's West Virginia (4-0) as usual at the top.

Idaho State, with a 9-2 record in nonleague play, is the big favorite in the Rocky Mountain Conference.

Utah, the favorite, helps open the Skyline Conference season against Montana Wednesday night.

Hamilton Woman's Kitchen Sink Stolen

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Even the kitchen sink isn't safe any more in Hamilton.

Police said Sunday that thieves broke into the home of Miss Maggie Forney over the weekend and took the sink plus a half-dozen other items.

A similar plunder was reported at the home of the Rev. Sloan Hodges who said the kitchen sink and bathtub were stolen.

Alaska's population has increased almost two-thirds since 1950 and now is about 211,000.

Ohio's Weekend Traffic Kills 17

Slippery Highways Cause Many Mishaps

By The Associated Press

Traffic	17
Fire	2
Miscellaneous	11
Total	30

Oioans started off the second long holiday weekend in as many weeks cautiously but as the 102-hour New Year's weekend progressed, accidents became more rife and the death toll climbed.

In all, 30 persons lost their lives in the state between 6 p.m. Wednesday and Midnight Sunday. Of these, 17 were killed on the state's highways, two others died in fires and 11 were killed by carbon monoxide poisoning, falls, cuts and the like.

Thirty-two persons died in the long Christmas weekend last week. The sudden cold wave which swept the state early Sunday leaving highways covered with ice figured in several fatal highway accidents.

Not included in the Ohio toll was the auto collision near Winfield, W. Va., which killed Mrs. Wilma Sirk, 22, of Columbus and her brother-in-law, Larry Sirk, 20, of Duck, W. Va.

The fatalities include:

Saturday
Joseph J. Karoleski 44, Parma, when his jocular vein was cut in an industrial accident Friday.

Mrs. Sarah Ann Ciarrochi, 41, Akron, bled to death when she cut her arm trying to close a storm window.

Mrs. Shirley Agler, 81, of carbon monoxide fumes from an unvented heater in her Columbus apartment.

Ira Bookwalter and his wife, Mary, both in their 70s, from the effects of carbon monoxide fumes from an unvented gas water heater in their Springfield home.

Virgil Duffey, 29, Bloomville, when his car struck the side of a bridge near Melmore, Seneca County.

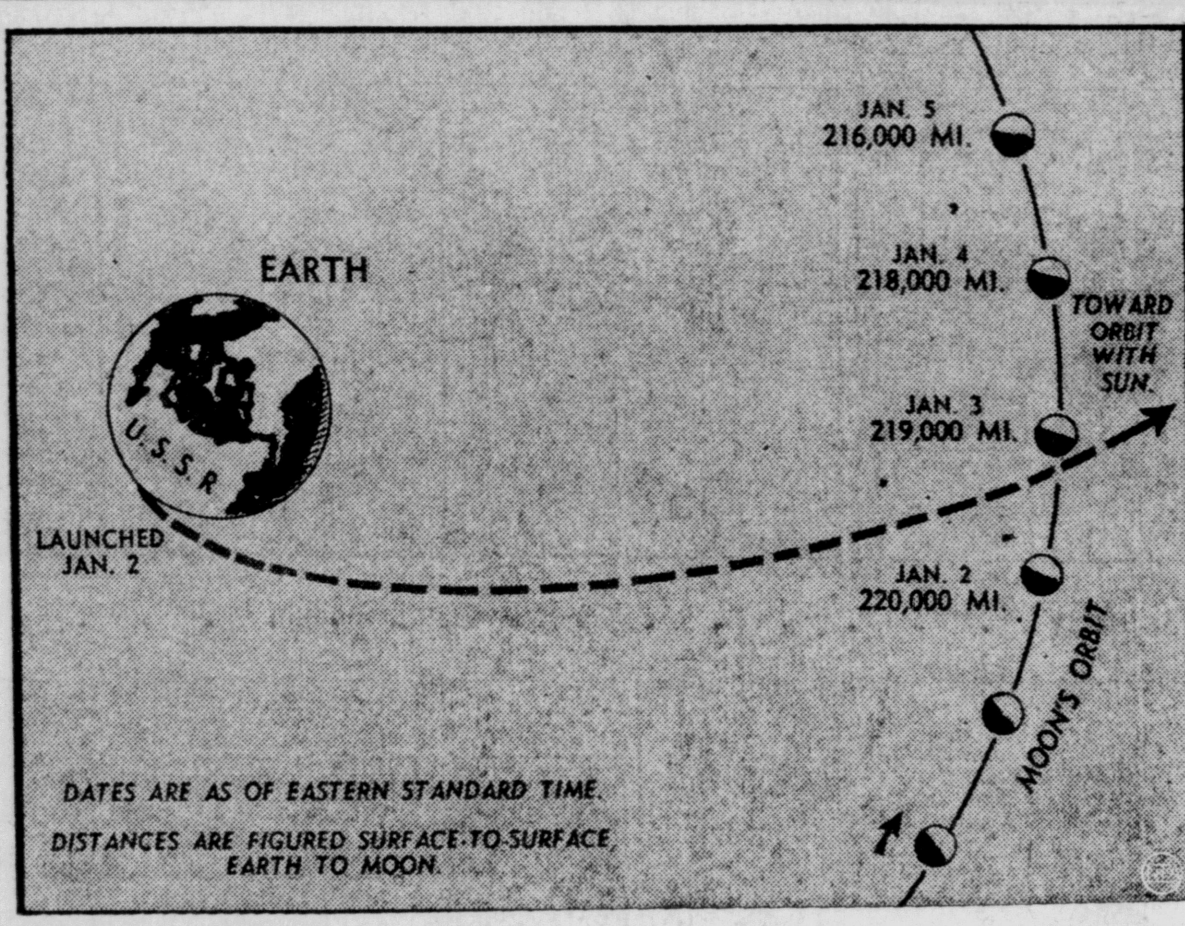

Gail Elizabeth Hess, 4, run over by a car which her mother was backing out of a driveway at their home in Covington, Miami County.

Chris James Dillon, 51, of near Urbana, thrown from the back of a hay truck which his father was driving onto Ohio 339 in Washington County.

Glen Adkins, 19, Verdunville, W. Va., in a collision on a Pickaway County road near Circleville.

William Jefferson May, 64, Portsmouth, fatally injured when he was crushed between two coils of steel at the Detroit Steel Corp. plant in Portsmouth Friday.

Roy Jones, 77, Xenia, when he was struck by a car in Xenia.

Sunday
The Rev. Edlard Kocher, 27, Findlay, in an auto collision on U. S. 25, five miles south of Portage, Wood county.

Cecil O. Long, 57, and his son, Marion C. Long 28, both of Jeffersonville when their car cut wide on a curve and collided head-on with a tractor-trailer truck on U. S. 22 and Ohio 3 near Washington Court House.

Dillard Hornsley, 30, Franklin, in a three-car collision on U. S. 25 just north of Franklin in Warren county.

Devere H. Schwier, 59, burned to death in a fire that destroyed his home in Canton.

Willis Davis, 35, Hamilton, in a two-car collision on Gasper-Somers road near Camden in Preble county.

Rocket

"Similar space ships will be capable of traveling beyond the boundaries of our solar system," he declared.

(In Nuernberg, Germany, Prof. Hermann Oberth, who recently resigned from a post as adviser to the U. S. Army's missile program, said the Soviets possibly wanted to hit the moon with their rocket but "slyly covered up" an error in calculation when they established that it would bypass the moon and continue its travel in space.

(He said he did not think the Russians were more than two or three months ahead of the United States in rocketry.

Cuba

Communist world. And it has had little hesitation in the past in recognizing regimes brought to power through military coups d'etat.

American action in Cuba will be watched throughout Latin America as an indication of whether Washington learned anything from the riots that greeted Vice President Nixon in Venezuela.

There is no point now in Washington worrying about whether Communist elements are involved in the revolution. The rebel leaders have indicated they intend to keep the Reds at arms' length.

There can be no doubt about the popularity of Castro's revolution. The depths of the hatred of the Cuban people for Batista, his dictatorship and the dreary history of corruption on a fabulous scale has to be seen to be believed.

The new government is starting off on an enormous wave of popular support. Failure by the United States to encourage it—indeed to offer it help and guidance—is certain to be deeply resented.

corridors of hotels, on the alert for violence.

Speedy executions already had been meted out to at least five Batista henchmen. They were Capt. Jose Garcia Menocal, a police inspector in the western province of Pinar del Rio; Brig. Gen. Joaquin Casilla, Batista's commander in Las Villas province, and three of his top staff officers.

Among those under arrest was Dr. Joaquin Martinez Saenz, president of the National Bank of Cuba.

The frantic exodus of thousands of American tourists eased off. Scores who had been planning to leave decided to stay. More than 1,000 had returned to the states by special ships and planes.

All commercial airlines were given permission to resume flights between the United States and Cuba early today.

North Lima Loses 49-43 To Lowellville
North Lima's Zippers dropped their seventh game in eight tries Saturday by losing a 49-43 decision to the Lowellville Rockets.

The winners are now 5-2. Dick Dillon led the losers with 15 while Ken Camp had 14 for the winners.

Lowellville led at the quarters 10-9, 23-21 and 34-31.

The Zips will play again Friday with Springfield Local.

Pond Is Frozen But Rough For Skating
The pond at Memorial Park is frozen again for skating but the surface is rough, reports Rusty Tomlinson, city recreational director.

The roughness resulted from the recent thaw and the sudden cold snap which was accompanied by strong winds which whipped the water. Attempts to scrape the rough ice has had little effect, he said.

augurated and the senate will have a new president.

House Speaker Roger Cloud (R-Logan) will call the house to order, the members will take their oaths, the Democrats will nominate Rep. James A. Lantz (D-Fairfield) as speaker and the Republicans will nominate Cloud. Lantz will win because he already has been chosen in a Democratic caucus. Formal selection of other house officers will follow.

There will be many new faces when the two houses meet. Nine of the senate members will be strangers to legislative halls; the house will have 45 with no legislative experience behind them.

One familiar face will be bobbing up on the state scene today. It will be that of Rep. John W. Brown (R-Medina). If that doesn't sound familiar, perhaps you remember him as former Lt. Gov. John W. Brown who served an 11-day term as interim governor early in 1957.

In the New Year period, California, as during the Christmas weekend, led all states in traffic fatalities. More than 40 were reported as against more than 60 in the Christmas period.
